Adam Dietrich, of Robrerstown, is 90 years old, being the oldest Democrat and oldest citizen in East Hempfield.

John Showers, ex-constable, is the oldest inhabitant returned from Upper Rapho, his age being 87 years.

Mrs. Buch, of Penn township, is 92 years old and is the oldest inhabitant of her township. Agricultural Items,

The were about 2,000 cases of tobacco grown in Conestoga township last yearsay 800,000 pounds. Every farmer in the township except one grew tobacco, and that one did not refrain from growing it by reason of any "conscientious scruples" he had, but because he believed it would not pay in the end as well as other crops. The most valuable farm in Indiantown district belongs to C. B. Herr and is farmed by C. B. Herr, jr. The product of the farm last year is reported by the census enumerator as being of $8,000 value, and the crop was less than an average one.

The Last Stone Laid by Lancaster Contract-The following notice from a Shepherdstown paper relates to the successful pro-

Lancaster contractors :

On Tuesday last the last stone was cut in the quarry above town for the piers of the new bridge at this place, and on Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock the last stone was laid on the piers. Thus within five months-for it was the first week in February last the work was commenced-Messrs. Fitzpatrick & Co., contractors, have completed what, less than half a century ago, would have been thought impossible to have been done. With about 75 men regularly employed, and with favorable weather, with the exception of a few days, they have been steadily engaged in the preparing for and constructing this great work.

There are five piers in all, three in the Potomac, averaging about 90 feet high from the bottom of the river, and two upon the canal banks, averaging about 70 feet high each

Messrs. Fitzpatrick, Barry and McCafferty, who have been superintending the various branches of this enterprise, deserve great credit for their perseverance and energy; they have not only proved themselves men of business, but have, by their courteous and gentlemanly manner, won the esteem of the men whom they have had employed and of all others who have had business intercourse with them. This community owes much to them for the simple reason of their having kept many idlers off of our streets, by their giving all available labor something to do.

And right here we wish to say, and it is to their lasting credit, that never have we of reviewers was discharged. seen or heard of-considering the number employed-such an orderly set of men enquarries and in all other work connected with railroad improvements going on here this summer, as these men have proved themselves to be. Shepherdstown can congratulate herself that she has not been subjected to any of that rougher element that usually centres around public works.

We congratulate Messrs. Fitzpatrick & Co. upon the successful completion of their great and important work. We will refer to this matter more fully upon the completion of the bridge, which will take place in about a week or ten days.

We must not forget to state that as the last stone was laid on the pier, one of the workmen proposed three cheers for Hancock, which was heartily responded to by all present.

SUDDEN DEATH.

A Lady Found Dead in Bed. Miss Mary Ann Gillespie, aged about 46 years, was found dead in her room at the residence of her father, Charles Gillespie, West Vine street, opposite St. Mary's church, between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning. Miss Gillespie was her father's housekeeper, and they lived alone. It was her habit to rise early in the morning, and Gillespie's assistance, and Dr. H. E. Muhlenberg was summoned, but on his arrival he pronounced Miss Gillespie dead. Miss Gillespie had been affected with heart disease for some time past, though her condition was not considered serious. She was somewhat indisposed yesterday, but not unusually so. It is supposed she had arisen from her bed and was suddenly attacked with the disease from which she had suffered, and, falling to the floor, died almost instantly. Coroner Mishler empaneled the following jury to hold an inquest : J. A. E. Carpenter, J. L. Porter, Leven Rote, Elias Martin, D. A. Altick and H. R. McConomy. The jury returned a verdict that death was caused by heart disease. Miss Gillespie was, as above stated, the daughter and housekeeper of our venerable fellow citizen, Charles Gillespie, and the sister of Mrs. Ambrose McConomy, of this city, and of Mrs. G. Wash. Smith, of Pittsburgh. Her brother, Chas. J. Gillespie, and two or three sisters reside in Pittsburgh. Miss Gillespie's sudden death will shock and distress hosts of friends by whom she was dearly beloved. As a daughter and sister she was dutiful and affectionate, as a friend constant and true, and as a Chrisand within its walls, where she so often worshiped, the last sad rites of the church | ed ever since. will be given her.
